Executive Works On Plans for Summer Event

At a regular breakfast meeting of the executive of the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce held last Thursday a major portion of the meeting was devoted to discussion of events on the weekend of July 22nd.

Principal event will be an amateur rodeo sponsored by the Maverick Lariat Club and held at Sekura Auctions Sale Yard during the afternoon of Saturday, July 22nd.

The rodeo will be preceded in the morning by a parade to be organized by the Chamber of Commerce. Some work has already been done in this regard and three or four bands are likely to be available.

The meeting was also informed that the Drayton Valley Lions Club have agreed to sponsor a midway in conjunction with the rodeo.

Two dances are planned for the weekend; one Friday evening under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship and one Saturday night sponsored by the roping club.

The Whitewater Canoe race from Rocky Mountain House to Edmonton will also be held on the same weekend, but at the present time no extensive activities are planned for the river grounds.

The canoes will arrive here Friday afternoon and leave on Saturday morning.

Known for the past two years as Klondike Kampers Karnival, a decision on whether or not to make a change in the name will be made at the next general meeting of the Chamber.

Other business of the meeting included a suggestion that a supper or stag night featuring an agricultural speaker and with farmers of the area as guests should be considered by the Chamber.

The suggestion received the approval of executive members and will be introduced at the general meeting for further suggestions and recommendations.

McCullagh Wins NDP Nomination

Maurice McCullagh, Drayton Valley district farmer won the nomination as N.D.P. candidate in the next provincial election at a nomination meeting here Monday, March 13th.

About 120 were present for the meeting in the Legion Hall which saw Mr. McCullagh elected for his first try at provincial politics.

Two other candidates for the nomination were Gaston Jouan of Tomahawk and George Mann of Fallis.

Fr. Sullivan Passes Friday

District residents will be saddened to learn that Father Joseph Sullivan of Sylvan Lake died last Friday. Fr. Sullivan was Pastor at Entwistle and has been active in the Wildwood, Seba, Tomahawk, Dr Drayton areas for twenty-five years--from 1930 to 1955. The funeral took place at St. Joseph's Cathedral in Edmonton on Tuesday.

Ladies' Night Success

Members of the Drayton Valley Rotary Club, their wives and guests, enjoyed the Club's Ladies' Night last Wednesday.

The evening, planned by the ladies, started with a delicious Chinese supper and concluded with dancing in the Cardium Room of the Drayton Valley Hotel.

Guest speaker for the evening was Rev. E. Martin who related experiences in the middle-East in his talk on "World Friendship." Rev. Martin travelled widely in the Mediterrean area while serving in the R.C.A.F.

Cathy Bright was mistress of ceremonies for the occasion, assisted by Elsie Kazoleas during the entertainment portion of the evening.

Entertainment was provided by the Royal Aurora dancing group, songs by Carol Kruger and a demonstration of the Charleston by Carol McGaughey.

Plan Presentation of Brief to Cabinet

At a meeting in Drayton Valley last Friday the contents of a brief on encroachment on agricultural lands by various industrial undertakings was studied and approved for presentation to the provincial cabinet.

The brief was prepared by an Edmonton consulting firm at the request of the Farmers Union of Alberta and is being explained at meetings of locals before presentation.

Present for the meeting here in the Legion Hall were Bob Doyle of the consulting firm, Lawrence Henderson of Lacombe, chairman of the F.U.A. surface rights committee, and Albert Martin of Tomahawk, director of Sub-District 4.

Mr. Doyle, prior to summarizing the brief, noted that Alberta now has about 70,000 farmers, almost half of whom are members of the F.U.A. Their wholehearted support would be required, he said, in obtaining changes in legislation more favorable to the farm population.

The brief, he said, does not single out any industry, but any type of encroachment on farm lands that could include highways, pipelines, power lines, industrial expansion or water diversion schemes.

Points covered in the brief are as follows:

SUMMARY

1. That no pipe line, power line, highway, water diversion or other works that may impose the forceful taking and using or expropriation of land be allowed until there has been a public hearing into necessity;

2. That all oil transmission lines come under the provisions and disciplines of the Public Utilities Act with common purchaser, common carrier, controls on tariffs, public inspection of records and accounts commitments or waive all right to expropriate privately owned agricultural land;

3. That no company be allowed to purchase an interest in land for a pipeline, power line or other until they have first made an application for a pipe line permit and the route of the pipe line has been suitably advertised for objectors and a public hearing into necessity held;

4. That all right of entry orders granted by the Right of Entry Board predating January 1, 1963 be reviewed and heard to establish annual rentals consistent with present use and current property values. Orders to be heard in priority of effective date and adjustments to be retroactive to aforementioned date;

Project Aids Stock Feeding

The development of drainage facilites on an old lake bottom near Picardville, Alberta, will make approximately 750 acres of land available for intensive production. The project is being carried out under the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration's Water Development program and in conjunction with the Municipal District of Westlock.

The project consists of the excavation of a drainage ditch approximately 1½ miles long, and the installation of a wooden outlet structure and standard control gate that will allow water from the lake to be utilized for flood irrigation purposes.

The main object of the project is to stablize present livestock enterprises through the production of hay crops on the lake bottom, and to facilitate increase in livestock numbers as feed supplies allow. Ten farmers will be directly affected by the development, and may use part of the project as pasture land depending on year-to-year requirements.

Signs Going Up

Centennial signs greeting visitors to Drayton Valley popped up at several locations in the past few days.

Town workmen are erecting signs at each of the highway entrances to the community noting the observance of Canada's Centennial here.

Another Centennial sign has also been erected in front of the downtown administration office.

To Present Brief

5. That any landowner subjected to expropriation or any forceful taking and use be empowered to retain counsel and experts to represent himself before any Board or Tribunal set up for the purpose, and the cost thereof be taxed against the applicant;

6. That all and any use of surface in effect or implied in any "Grant of Easement" for pipe line be prohibited by statute, that any implied continuing use be disallowed, and all surface use be based on landlord/tenant agreement;

7. That the authorizing Minister in all cases of expropriation or forceful taking and use of agricultural land be the Minister of Agriculture;

8. That the present vacancy in the Public Utilities Board be filled by an appointment of a candidate selected by The Farmers Union of Alberta or a similar oriented association;

9. That a performance bond be required by any pipeline, power operator, or government department during construction or any other disruptive operation as surety against trespass and other off right of way claims;

10. That the "Surface Reclamation Board" and the supporting legislation be rescinded;

11. That the jurisdiction of the Right of Entry Arbitration Board be broadened to include all things relative to the granting of or termination of right of entry orders with power of inspection and supervision of orders granted;

12. That a defined corridor be created east of the City of Edmonton with extensions running both north and south to the custody points where all pipe lines and power facilities can be accommodated without further sterilization of agricultural land subject to conversion to industrial use. This would serve another interest of the general public and be consistent with the recommendations of both the Municipalities of Strathcona and Sturgeon as well as the Edmonton District Planning Commission;

13. That all petroleum land men purchasing a right title or interest in property be licensed and come under the Real Estate Agents Licensing Act or similar discipline;

14. That sincere consideration be given to the formation of one Board to handle all expropriation or forceful using and taking of agricultural land for industrial or public purpose use;

15. That a study into equitable methods, procedures, evaluation of land values be made with a view of establishment of firm terms of reference that would ensure the peaceful occupation of private property and establish less injurious means of serving the public purpose to accommodate industrial uses or public requirement.

The next meeting to be held is on April 6th.

The president of a large furniture store was awakened at 2 a.m. by the ringing of his telephone.

"Good morning," said a sweet young voice. "This is Mary Smith. You don't know me but I bought a coffee table at your store two weeks ago and I just wanted to tell you how much I like the table."

The president was annoyed but tried to hide his feelings.

"I'm glad you like it madam," he said, "but why did you have to call me in the middle of the night to tell me?

"Because," replied Mary sweetly, "your truck has just delivered it."

The members requested the Secretary-Treasurer to acknowledge and support a letter from the Medicine Hat Health Unit recommending a review of Health Unit costs and grants.

The Financial Report for the period April 1st to February 28th, 1967 was presented The probable per capita rates for the year 1967-1968 and the year 1968 - 1969 were explored in relation to increased operating costs.

These increased costs were due principally to salary increases. Three new salary schedules have been introduced by the Provincial Government in 1962, 1965 and 1966. There has been no increase in the local per capita rate during the same period.

After careful scrutiny the Financial Report was adopted.

Dr. Brown presented the Quarterly Medical Report for the period October - December, 1966. The following topics were included: Incidence of Dysentery; Measles Vaccination Program; Mobile X-ray Survey - Grande Cache District; Infant Clinics; School Services; Dental Program; Water Reports; Milk Shed Progress; and Restaurant Hygiene, etc.

David Thompson

Canada's Great Map-Maker; Born in Poverty—Died Destitute

David Thompson, one of the world's greatest geographers and explorers, is pictured taking an observation, and pioneering a route through the Athabaska Pass in 1810. To take an observation, he poured mercury into a flat iron pan placed perfectly on firm ground, away from any vibrations. The glass-covered pan provided an artificial horizon. It reflects an image of the sun which, surveyed with a sextant, gives the angle of the sun's elevation at the meridian above the horizon, and from this the surveyor is able to calculate his position.

Thompson was born in poverty in London in 1770 and died in poverty near Montreal at the age of 87, after an extremely active life dedicated to his work, and on retirement to his family of 13 children. Thompson's career began humbly with navigational training at a Westminster school devoted to educating poor boys. At 14, he joined the Hudson's Bay Company as an apprentice, sailed to Fort Prince of Wales, where Samuel Hearne was governor, and next year moved to York Factory as a clerk and hunter. During his seven-year apprenticeship, Thompson travelled with large parties many times to the northern interior of the continent, exploring and establishing new trading posts, wintering with Indians and studying survey methods.

In 1791 he became a regular trader and surveyor at a good salary, and in 1796 succeeded in reaching Lake Athabaska by a previously unexplored route through Reindeer and Woolaston Lakes, helped only by two inexperienced Indians, a birch-bark canoe he made him himself, one gun and a fish net. His Hudson's Bay Co. governor, however, wanted him to concentrate on local fur trade instead of surveying this remote region, where the North-West Co. was building a lucrative trade, so Thompson resigned and joined the North-West Co. in 1797, as an explorer and surveyor.

With the North-West Co. in the first year he surveyed the U.S.-Canadian border, pinpointed the positions of the company's trading posts across Canada, and explored the source of the Missouri River.

In the next eight years, he combined surveying of the prairies with fur trading, and crammed notebooks full of data about the terrain, animals and natives. He mapped Red Deer Lake, the Athabaska River and its tributaries, including the Pembina River; the North Saskatchewan River west to Rocky Mountain House and south to the Bow River; Lesser Slave Lake and the Peace River; the Churchill River and the "muskrat country" of northern Manitoba. During this period he married Charlotte Small, the half-breed daughter of an Irish fur trader, and they began a family that eventually grew to seven sons and six daughters.

In the next four years, Thompson extended the company's trade west of the Rocky Mountains into the unexplored area south of the Fraser River, and established several trading posts along the Columbia River surveying and mapping wherever he went. From 1810 to 1812 he pioneered a new route through the mountains via the Athabaska River, threaded the Athabaska Pass in mid-winter, and surveyed the Columbia River from source to mouth. Finally he pulled back to Fort William with six canoe-loads of furs and there joined the freight-canoe fleet bound for Montreal.

After almost three decades and some 50,000 miles of constant travelling, he settled near Montreal to complete his maps of western Canada, noting with typical modesty and precision: "Thus I have fully completed the survey of this part of North America from sea to sea, and by almost innumerable astronomical observations have determined the positions of the Mountains, Lakes and Rivers and other remarkable places on the northern part of this continent..." The maps he laid down for remote parts of Canada are still definitive and accurate today.

He served for ten years as the British representative on the commission which surveyed the U.S.-Canada boundary from the St. Lawrence to Lake of the Woods. Then he moved to Williamstown, Ontario and lived there for several years in comfort, but his savings melted away as he established his sons in business and paid off their debts when they failed. At last he had to move back to Longueuil near Montreal and work as a surveyor until his eyesight failed and he was forced to retire. His last years passed in extreme poverty. He had to sell all his instruments and even his coat, to buy food. He died destitute.

Editorial Comment

This Might Work

A little research last week revealed what could be the reason why so many communities are outdistancing Drayton Valley in decorating with the Centennial motif.

In a near-by community a local carpenter has a town-wide contract to provide brackets and poles for placing Centennial flags on building fronts. On a quantity basis the price is reasonable and the whole of the business section is rapidly being transformed by colorful banners flying from store fronts.

Why not a similar arrangement for Drayton Valley? Most of us are slow at getting started on projects that can be put off to another day but an enthusiastic club or group selling the idea in co-operation with a local handyman or carpenter could really get things rolling.

Drayton Valley Chapter Observes Nursing Week

The week of March 27th to March 31st, 1967, has been designated as Nursing Week in Alberta. In conjunction with Nursing Week, the Drayton Valley Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses wishes to familiarize the public with health careers.

In the Municipal Library there are several books which present varied aspects of Nursing. "A Lamp Is Heavy" is a hilarious encounter with some experiences of a student nurse. The experiences of Edith Cavell, an English nurse who was stationed in Belgium during World War I and who was executed for underground activity, are depicted in the book "Friend Within the Gates". "The Touch of Magic" is a moving story about Anne Sullivan, R.N., Helen Keller's nurse. Public Health Nursing is represented by the book, "Angel of Henry Street", Lillian Wald, the heroine of the book, was the first visiting nurse in the slum area of New York. Two other books which relate to nursing are: "All About Great Medical Discoveries", which covers areas such as the conquest of pain, the battle against polio, the war won against the choking grey membrane, and diptheria to mention a few; "No Language But A Cry" which presents mental illness among American children is the other book.

Contemporary authors have written two books about nursing in Western Canada. "No Man Stands Alone" was written in 1965 by Amy Wilson about her own experiences as doctor, dentist, midwife, psychiatrist, nurse to the scattered population of Indians living in Northern British Columbia and the Yukon. The book, "Heritage of Service", presented to the Municipal Library last week, was written by an Edmonton writer, Tony Cashman, at the request of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses. "Heritage of Service" celebrates the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses. References to Drayton Valley are found on pages 222 and 223--Drayton Valley nurses did the research for this part of the book.

On order at the Municipal Library are the books, "So You Want To Be A Nurse" and "Great Adventures in Nursing", a collection of stories and factual pieces covering many aspects of nursing from the problems of a beginning nurses' aide to the adventures of nurses in wartime.

One of the Drayton Valley nurses will speak to interested students at Frank Maddock High School about Health Careers. Displays and pamphlets pertinent to nursing will be apparent in the windows of Drayton Valley Merchants during the week, March 27 to March 31.

Well this past week's snowfall has certainly added some moisture to the land. On last Thursday afternoon some of the buses left early from the schools as the snowfall and high winds tended to make for drifted roads. No snowfall or windy weather (both had stopped) prevented the Junior andSenior high school students from enjoying themselves at their annual toboggan party last Friday. Everyone reported a good time.

The boys and girls belonging to the 4-H Forage and Beef Clubs spent a busy week in getting organized for the giant 4-H Jamboree which is coming up in a month's time. Some of the members, along with their leaders attended a meeting in Edmonton. The regular meeting was held in our home and Mr. Lowe was on the spot to give a quiz to the Beef Club members. Most of the business of the meeting concerned the forthcoming Jamboree and those members who are taking part in the public speaking in Spruce Grove gave their speeches for the benefit of the other members criticism. The members met again in a special meeting to discuss their part in the Jamboree and to decide when to hold practices in marching. The next meeting will be held at the Mazeppa home and it is hoped that all uniforms and costumes will be ready by that time.

Hope everyone who went to Klondike days at Wildwood had a good time. Due to unavoidable circumstances this family did not take part in the festivities this year.

The boys in the Cadet Corp journeyed to Jasper with their instructors for a weekend of skiing. Due to the Easter holidays and spring exams Cadet meetings have been suspended for a couple of weeks.

The boys in the Cub Pack enjoyed themselves at tobogganing and skidoo riding a couple of weekends ago. Some of the boys in the Pack are due to go up into Scouts soon. A third patrol has now been formed in the Scout troop. This is known as the Cobra patrol.

United Church Women Hold Regular Meeting

A general meeting of United Church Women was held March 14 in the church basement. Devotion was given by Mrs. Myrt Peters.

Reports were given from the units. The Evening Study Group meets the 1st Tuesday of every month under the leadership of Mrs. Arlene Hay. They have currently been studying church terminology and discussing some other religions. The Afternoon Study Group meets every 3rd Wednesday of each month and Mrs. Muriel Maclure is the leader. They have been studying from the book, "Learning and Living the Christian Life." The Action Group meets on the 3rd Monday of each month with Mrs. Margaret McLean as leader. They reported two successful bake sales and are busy with plans for a spring bazaar. All units have been doing hospital visiting.

The carpet for the aisle of the Sanctuary has been purchased and laid. We would like to give many thanks to the Primary Department of the Church Sunday School for the very nice donation towards the purchase of this carpet.

Mrs. Eunice Lyle was appointed our new Program Chairman and Mrs. Carol Hoyland was selected to sit on the committee of Stewards as the representative of the U. U.C.W.

Our Travelling Bake Box is lost and if anyone reading this has it or knows where it is would they please contact Mrs. Carol Hoyland at 542-3291.

A motion was passed that we give a financial helping hand to the C.G.I.T. to enable them to purchase study literature and also to help them with a trip they are planning to Rundle Mission.

A most enjoyable program was given by several ladies in the form of a skit called "New Ways for New Days." They went through the U.C.W. Handbook.

Increased Livestock Population Noted

Drayton Valley auctioneer, Wendy Sekura, revealed some interesting figures recently as a result of a survey undertaken by him to determine the number of livestock in the area served by the local auction mart.

Sales here attract buyers and sellers from an area stretching from Warburg to Sangudo, west to Edson, through Lodgepole and Winfield back to Warburg. Based on figures obtained through Department of Agriculture figures and farm studies, Mr. Sekura estimates a cattle population of 88,000 in the area. Hogs are estimated to number about 40,000 and sheep 11,000.

Mr. Sekura noted that 1286 cattle had passed through the auction mart in the past six months, with the majority of them being sold during the last two months. The auction mart has been in operation for one year.

Info for Bowlers

It has become quite evident that the majority of league bowlers are not aware of the Bowling Association of which they become members when they pay their entry fees each fall. In view of this, the seven members present at the March meeting decided that we attempt to enlighten the bowlers through the press. For instance, did you know that...

Each time you bowl in a league, 10¢ of $1.25 it costs you goes to the Association? This money and your entry fee at the start of the year pays for: the Christmas and Spring banquets; 300 and 350 pins for anyone who gets these scores in a single game; 750 pins (Ladies only), 800 and 900 pins for anyone who gets these scores in three games; the engraving as well as part of the cost of trophies; plus numerous other things.

The Association is affiliated with the Alberta 5-Pin Association which in turn is a member of the Western Canada 5-Pin Association and the Canadian Bowling Congress.

The Canadian Bowling Congress passed a motion that as of September 1, 1967 the counter pin be eliminated. Your Association along with the majority of Western Canada representatives are trying to have this motion rescinded because we feel that this action would take the challenge out of the game.

Each team is supposed to have at least one representative present at each meeting. The meetings are held on the first Monday of each month at 8:00 p.m. Notice of each coming meeting is placed in theBowling Alley for your reminder.

Your Association is responsible for High School Bowling as well. The Central Alberta High School roll-offs were held here on March 12th. Congratulations to the lucky winners who will compete in the Alberta championships in Red Deer on April 1st.

The Spring Banquet will be held in the Elk's Hall on April 28th. Hope to see you on stage receiving a trophy that night.

COLORFUL HISTORY OF FAMOUS FRUIT

McIntosh Red Apple Goes Back More Than 170 Years

OTTAWA--Canada's most famous apple variety and the one that still is dominant across the country--the McIntosh Red--has a history that goes back more than 170 years.

The contribution of the outstanding variety was the work of John McIntosh, the United Empire Loyalist who quit his farm in the Mohawk Valley of New York State to settle at Dundela, Ontario, and of his son Allan, who was born on the Dundas County farm in 1815.

It was in 1796 that John McIntosh, while clearing brush on his new property, came across a few young apple trees. The seedlings were still small enough to be transplanted and they were moved to a fenced plot close to the house.

How the seedlings got there in the first place is not known definitely. But their apples were something like those of the Fameuse trees brought to Quebec from Normandy in the 17th century and it is presumed that the seedlings had been sown by some early French settler.

Only a few of the trees were to survive. Among those that did, however, was one that proved to be exceptional and it became the parent tree of the McIntosh Red apple variety.

It was shortly after Allan's birth in 1815 that the father began to develop his orchard in earnest. He grew s edlings, planting some in his orchard and selling others to farmers in the district. By the time Allan was five years old, the father had a thriving nursery business under way at his farm.

But of all the trees in the McIntosh orchard, none equalled the one particular tree that had been found in the brush. By now it had become the center of attraction for farmers in the area, winning acclaim for the excellence of its apples, its big yields, and its hardiness.

How to propagate this outstanding species and make it available to other growers was a problem that remained unsolved until 1835. The McIntoshes were aware that grafting was required to do this but they didn't know how to perform the operation--nor did anyone else in the district. Moreover, there were no agricultural schools or government departments at this time to which they could turn for help.

Father and son already had tried growing trees from seed of the original McIntosh but, as they expected, the fruit produced eventually by the seedlings was no match for that from the parent tree.

Finding the seedling tree in 1796 was a stroke of luck. Luck was involved again--this time in the spring of 1835 when the McIntoshes hired an itinerant worker who arrived at the farm looking for a job. He was from the United States and, it turned out, he knew how to graft apple trees.

By the time he quit the McIntosh farm later that year he had taught Allan how to perform the operation.

The original McIntosh Red apple was a chance seedling transplanted to cultivation by John McIntosh at Dundela, Ontario, in 1796. The remains of the famous tree, which died in 1908 are shown here.

During the winter of 1835-36 Allan and his father worked at the job of grafting slips, or scions, from their prize tree on two and three-year-old crab apple seedlings. These were then packed in sawdust and stored in the cellar until spring when many were planted in the McIntosh orchard and the rest offered for sale.

Grafting seedlings in the winter, planting them in the spring and looking after their orchard made the following years busy ones for the McIntosh family. Allan became a frequent traveller throughout the district, selling seedlings and teaching farmers the art of grafting apple trees.

Although the McIntosh 's enjoyed only a local reputation for some time, its renown began to spread. By about 1900 it had become well established in eastern Canada and it went on to become one of the leading varieties in North America.

Other varieties have appeared since but the McIntosh still is the one most widely grown in this country. In 1965, for example, it accounted for slightly more than 50 per cent of the 21,435,000 bushels of apples grown that year in Canada.

The original tree, a young seedling when it was discovered in 1796, outlived both the father and son. John died in 1845, Allan in 1899. The tree, located about 15 feet from house, was damaged badly when fire levelled the building in 1893. But the branches on the side farthest from the blaze continued to bear fruit until 1908 when the old and famous tree finally expired.

In 1912 a granite monument, paid for by popular subscription was erected on the McIntosh property in memory of the father and his famous tree.

In The Legislature

By Mrs. C. R. Wood, M.L.A.

The third meeting of the public accounts committee was held on the morning of Friday beginning the sixth week in the Legislature. The study of the accounts on telephones was continued and Hon. R. Reierson, Minister of Telephones stated that Cable-vision in Alberta has been held up by a Federal ruling that United States television signals cannot be carried over Canadian microwaves.

Friday afternoon estimates for the Department of Education were completed, amounting to $207,538,790. Of this amount, operational and construction grants totalled $135,000,000 and Universities got $42,000,000. Students' Assistance grants amounted to $2,621,800.

The estimates for the Highways Department amounted to $40,871,380 most of which goes for grants for roads. Plans are nearly complete for a 10,000 mile "grid System" of new and rebuilt rural roads. The system which will be started in 1968 will put 99% of all drivers in the Province within six miles of a paved or blacktopped road.

A new vote of $1,000,000 is for grants to Towns and Villages for the improvement of streets and roads. There are 93 towns and 167 villages with a total population of 228,483 to come under this grant. The Minister of Highways is sending a circular to all towns and villages explaining the grant and asking them to decide what work they plan to do and apply for the money grant therefor. Also representatives of Towns and Villages will be called in to discuss three or four formulas for distribution of these grants. One formula is to make it a five year program of a total of $5,000,000 and based on population basis.

Suggested uses of the grant are -- plan for storm sewers, build base grade or building lines, sidewalks, curb and gutter, etc. Some towns are ready now to apply for a grant, others next year and so on. Towns are encouraged to hire an engineer or consultant to guarantee using the grant for work that will stand up to specifications.

There are 21 ferries in Alberta now, the Minister reported, with three to be replaced by bridges in 1967.

The estimates for the Department of Industry and Development were given study next with $2,449,330 being used for publicity, statistics, film and photographic work a and Alberta Government Travel Bureau. Community Development work with Indians and Metis will be continued on a larger scale than in the past, the Minister stated.

Estimates for the Department of Labour amounting to $4,668,060 were then passed. Hon. R. Reierson, Minister of Labour reported that apprenticeship training continues to expand with 28 grades being taught under the apprenticeship program to 7120 students. This is 1100 increase over the number in 1966 and constitutes one-quarter of Canada's apprentices in training or 7% of Canada's population.

Replying to a question asking consideration of Gas Co-operatives, Hon. Mr. Patrick said that after a thorough investigation it was found that only 25% of Alberta farms could be served by natural gas so it was decided that a cooperative along the lines of a Rural Electric Association would not be practical and gas cooperatives would be based on many sources while electricity is based on only a few.

On Thursday the rules of the House were suspended while Mrs. C.R. Wood (S.C. Stony Plain) on behalf of the women of Alberta, presented a portrait of Miss Roberta MacAdams to the Legislature. Miss MacAdams was one of the first two women elected to the Alberta Legislature and was the first and only woman elected as an Armed Services Representative

Consideration was made of the estimates for the Departments of Lands and Forests, Mines and Minerals and Municipal Affairs with a total of $12,312,320 for them and leaving six departments still to be dealt with next week.

The Woods Are Full Of Them!

Typical of the large number of seismic parties at work this winter in the Rainbow-Zama area of nothern Alberta is this British American Oil crew: employing surveyor's transit to determine locations for seismic "shots", using oil flare for warmth and light to make repairs in 20 below zero weather, placing dynamite charge in small-bore "shot hole", and finally detonating the charge electrically so that shock waves reflected from subsurface formations can be recorded for analysis in the search for structures that may contain oil or gas.

BOXING NEWS

Starting Tuesday, March 21st, the Drayton Valley Boxing and Weightlifting Club will be operating in a new facility. From mid-January when the club was formed, training sessions have been held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday in the Swimming Pool Dressing Rooms. Recently, however, the membership of the club both for boxing and weightlifting has reached such proportions that the limited confines of the pool facilities were inadequate. The club has moved its operations into the Junior High School Gymnasium. Training sessions for both of the club's activities will be held simultaneously on Tuesday and Friday evenings from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

The club is under the direction of Constable Lorne Gauley who was responsible for its formation and organization early in January. Since that time the membership has soared and generally the club has progressed in leaps and bounds. Instruction in the boxing department has been very capably handled by Garry Mastre and Barry Thompson. Recently Don Booker came in to give a hand with the training. With Don's background and experience in the sport, he certainly will play a vital part in the future of the organization. As for the weightlifting, Harvey Jones, a popular professional wrestler in Calgary and Edmonton, is in charge along with Lorne Gauley. Harvey is presently employed in Drayton Valley and we have been very fortunate to have his leadership in this activity.

LODGEPOLE

Mrs. Charlotte E. Kay
Correspondent

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Maxwell at Calgary Power (Brazeau Dam) on the birth of a son, John.

The Lodgepole Lion Mites defeated Drayton Valley Mites in a very close game 7-6. Goals for Lodgepole were scored as follows: Wayne Karach, 2; Ricky Androschuk, 2; Lorne Knapp, 2; Brian Schultz, 1; Larry Pankewicz did a fine job in the goal.

In the annual Men's Open Bonspiel which finished last weekend the Grand Challenge and Grand Aggregate were won by Dr. H. Shimbashi of Drayton Valley. M. Vander Ploeg of Cynthia took second place and Stan Kondratuik of Drayton Valley, third.

In the second event (Wiltse Construction), Gordon Campbell of Entwistle took first place and Jim Crough of Drayton Valley second. Gossel of Drayton Valley took third place and Otto Stordalswall, fourth.

The third event was captured by Andy McGaughey of Drayton Valley with Ted Tucker placing second, Jim Streit, third and Jerry Wiltse, fourth.

The hard luck prize was won by G. Bolianatz.

The Lodgepole Curling Club would like to thank the donors who are as follows: J & A Trucking; Carnwood Wire Line McLeans' Well Service; Baldwin and Knoll; Canadian Fina; Redwell Servicing; Meraw and McGee Well Service; Gibson Petroleum; Lodgepole Hotel; Wiltse Construction; Lodgepole General Store; Pemfield Service; Panky's Enterprises; Brazeau Esso; Kay's General Store; Lodgepole Sport Shop; Blocks Store; Red and White Store, Drayton Valley; Drayton Valley Machine Shop; Sylake Maintenance; Ed's Royalite; and Northwestern Utilities Ltd.

A special donation by Herman Tuks of a large cake for the banquet. The club would also like to thank those who entered and all who in any way helped to make this bonspiel a success.

The members of the Lodgepole United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. G. Pedersen. It was a stormy night but there was a good turnout. Plans were made to hold a Spring Tea.

Please note. Sunday School will be cancelled for this coming Sunday, March 26th, Easter Sunday. Happy Easter to all.

HOCKEY SEASON CLOSING

We are nearing the end of the 1966-67 hockey season at the Centennial Civic Centre. The Mites are in the midst of the post-season playoffs after the completion of their community league schedule. The Red Wings will play Lodgepole in the final exhibition game of the season at the Mite level on March 22nd. The regular Pee Wee Community League will close out its schedule by the end of the month and an exhibition game or two against Lodgepole may be played before that time. At the Pee Wee All Star level, the Drayton Valley Hotel Oilers have a couple of more games to go. Likewise the Bantams, the Drayton Valley Tigers have a game or two left. They play Warburg Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m. From there on their schedule is open. The Drayton Valley Elks play the final Midget hockey game of the season when they face a team from Devon on Easter Saturday afternoon. It would seem that the Pembina Pipeliners pretty well have packed it up for the season. With the Easter holidays coming along it would be very difficult to keep the teem together for any future games.

So much for the Minor program, however, let us not forget that there is still a good deal of hockey to be played in the Intermediate ranks before the championship of the North West League is decided. The Rebels finished regular league play in first place and are well on their way to the finals in playoff action. They stopped the Edson Commodores 6-1 here Saturday and will likely end that series with another victory in Edson Thursday night. The winners of this series take on the winner of the series being played between Jasper Totems and Hinton Hawks. The Hawks and the Rebels are heavy favorites to take the semi-final round and go on to the meet in the best of five game finals to decide the league championship. This series will likely get under way the week after Easter.

BERRYMOOR

Mrs. Bea Cropley, Correspondent

Deepest sympathy goes out to the Bowen family on the recent loss of her mother.

Alfred Young is home again after having his appendix removed.

Wedding bells will soon be ringing for Sam Tweedle and Ethel Wideman who are to be married during the afternoon of April 1st at thehome of the bride. Open house will be held from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. with everyone welcome. We wish them the very best.

On Sunday the 5th, Ralph and Linda Davidson from Edmonton attended the service in the Pentecostal Holiness Church here to have their baby dedicated. Little Tommy was as good as gold and seemed to enjoy the whole service.

Last weekend Linda and Tommy spent the weekend with Mom Cropley and Dayna while Ralph and a friend of his went to Jasper to get in some skiing.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Ed Neff of Prince George B.C. is on the mend. Mrs. Neff, the former Christina Lindell of Berrymoor underwent four operations since January.

The folks here will all be glad to know she is recovering nicely.

Isobel Martin spent a few days in Drayton hospital last week.

Alberta Termed Food Producing Giant

Alberta--one of the food production giants of Canada--has come a long way since 1779 when the colorful old explorer and trader, Peter Pond, planted the province's first garden, Dr. E.E. Ballantyne, provincial deputy minister of agriculture, said recently. The first cattle in Alberta were those brought in by Rev. John McDougal to Morley in 1873.

Addressing the Western Canadian Society for Horticulture at Banff, Dr. Ballantyne said agriculture is one of Alberta's "big four industries." In 1966 farm cash income for the province was $794,000,000. Net farm income was $318,500,000--a jump of $108,000,000 over 1965.

Food products produced on Alberta farms produce four city jobs for every one on the farm, Dr. Ballantyne told the horticultural society. Every dollar earned on the farm turns over seven times and adds a great deal to the national economy.

Alberta, unlike most of Canada, was to some extent still an agricultural frontier, the deputy-minister said. Fifty per cent of all land in Canada capable of agricultural development was in Alberta. Between eight million to twelve million acres in Alberta, most of it in the north, awaits development.

To back this contention that Alberta is one of Canada's food production giants, Dr. Ballantyne said that this province was first in beef production, first in sheep, second in hogs and third in dairying and poultry.
